

Maple Class Newsletter

21/11/25

What a busy week in Maple!

In Maths and Reading this week we have been working hard on our assessments, showing what we can do independently. These have been some tough mornings, but Maple have shown amazing resilience and should be incredibly proud of themselves. A big well done from me!

In English, we began to plan and write our final recounts, imagining we had been transported back in time to the Viking/Anglo-Saxon era. This was a great opportunity to link our writing to our topic work. Some of us chose a day in a typical Anglo-Saxon village to recount, whilst others have been writing action-packed recounts of Viking raids! I look forward to reading the finished pieces.

Tuesday evening also saw our first "Star Gazing" night. Although a little chilly, it was nothing a hot chocolate couldn't fix and we had a wonderful time spotting the constellations. Thank you to all those of you who came to join us. The evening was a huge success and we hope to organise another.

Have a lovely weekend and keep practising your scripts!

Katy and Maple Class

This week's awards

Teacher awards:

Jayla & Lydia

Star of the week: Nola

Presentation: Leo Jones

Next week's learning

Maths: New unit on fractions

English: Writing: Finishing recount texts,

Reading: Moon Landing newspaper article,

Spelling: -ment suffix

Science: Solar system models

Topic: Viking and Saxon influences today

RE: Parables in the Bible

Reminders

Thursday: Space Dome visit (a.m.)

Friday: Hockey day at Bath Uni (for those attending)