

Cherry Class Newsletter

Date: 5th December 2025

Cherry Class, I am so so proud of you all!

Every single one of you gave your best performances this week and it has been amazing to celebrate in this joy with you.

Your acting, singing and dancing have filled so many hearts this week. I have had some fantastic comments from KS2 teachers who watched you on Thursday morning. You are all wonderful.

I have been proud of your perseverance, resilience and patience throughout this week as we have done final rehearsals, changed last minute details and worked out backdrop, lighting and scene changes. Well done everyone.

Amongst all of our play rehearsals, we have continued to develop our understanding of who the characters in Curious Quests are. We have been Brain and The Greap who have added lots of excitement to our quest adventures.

In Maths, we have worked hard on understanding what odd and even numbers are. The children used great teamwork to describe what this meant and how we can distinguish odd and even numbers.

It has been wonderful to have our Norland Nanny student, Amy, with us for the last three weeks. We will be sorry to see her go on Thursday but hope that she comes back to visit.

Have the most wonderful weekend everyone, you deserve it!

Olivia, Natalie, Jemma, Amy and Karen 😊

Due to our Christmas Play, we did not have a celebration assembly.

Our Special People were:

Ted, Luke, Harry, Fraser and Aurelia

Days to remember:

Monday – PE Kits and Book Change

Tuesday – Amy teaching PM (Olivia's PPA)

Wednesday – Christmas Lunch – please feel free to wear a Christmas jumper

Thursday – PE kits and Book Change

Natalie teaching PM (Olivia's PPA)

Friday – Magical Adventure in Mike's Meadow

We will be practising tricky words. Can you spot the tricky part of the word?

Mr	Mrs	Ms	ask	could
would	should	our	house	mouse

Phonemes we will be focusing on this week in school -

o-e	e-e
ew	ie (shield)

We will be reading and writing words. Can you see this week's focus phonemes?

these	new	shield	home
